The new Waterslash spinnerbait by ProTackles developed in Japan is made with supreme quality Japanese components. It has been tested by some of the best professional anglers in the world for more than a year. The head is designed to keep a perfect balance during retrieve at any speed and reach the right fishing position immediately after touching the water after the cast. The blades weight is specifically set to not overload the spinnerbait and to begin moving immediately after each cast. The compact size of the Waterslash is a perfect combination between design and functionality, and allows each angler to succeed in the toughest fishing condition. The hook is top quality spinner model made in Japan.
